

BIBLIOGRAPHY

SRP - pg 161 & 165

What is a Bibliography? We want to give credit to our sources; it's a list of the resources we used to find the info on our topic. Why is it important that we cite our references? To give validity to the information we presented in our paper as well as credit to the sources we used.

chart on p. 161: core elements that the Bibliography should include and in what order

Not every reference will have every element.

EXAMPLE: let's do an example together:

Crafting with Cat Hair: Cute Handicrafts to Make with Your Cat
by Kaori Tsutaya
Published by Quirk Books in Philadelphia, PA in 2011
54031st edition

Look at page 161 of SRP, and let's do this together:

Last, First. Book Title in Italics. Edition. Place of publication : Publishing company, publication date.

Tsutaya, Kaori. Crafting with Cat Hair. 54031st ed. Philadelphia: Quirk Books, 2011.

What order should your bibliography be in? Should it be in the order you used the source?
Should it be in the order each source appears in your paper?

NO: It should be alphabetical.

We need to alphabetize the six sources we used in these three paragraphs. If an author is not known, we use the title of the book or article in quotation marks. NOTE: if the title starts with "A," "an," or "the," we would ignore them.

Let's go through each source material and find either the author (if available or the title). I will write it on the board.

Newman, John J. and John H. Schmalbach (p. 134) - NOTICE how only the first author is last name first

Eibling, Harold H., John G. Gilman, and Anna Skehan (p.135)

"Alexander Graham Bell" - We have no author here, so we use the title of the article and put it in quotes (p.140) Again, if the title started with "A, an, or the" we would ignore them.

Biography.com Editors (p.141) - We italicize a website, I can not do it on the board, but I underline it to show that I should

Hobar, Linda Lacour (p.146)

Bilstein, Roger E. (p.147)

Okay, great, so let's start on our bibliography. Turn to page 150 in your books and let's work on putting them in what order? Alphabetical - see page 150 of Teacher's guide for answer

Last, First. Book Title in Italics. Place of publication : Publishing company, publication date.

REMEMBER:

This must be on the last page of your FOH report, on a new page, and you will need to complete the information required for each source.

Please turn to page 146 in your USHBW book. Can everyone find the Bibliography on the bottom of that page?

Can someone tell me where the information for that source material came from?

A: The Mystery of History, Volume IV

Who wrote that book?

A: Linda Lacour Hobar

When was it published?

A: 2014
